Swedish Forums for Crisis Preparedness
For cooperation between stakeholders in the field of emergency and crisis preparedness

Certain authorities have a specific responsibility for societal crisis preparedness i.e. to reduce societal vulnerability and to deal with emergencies and disasters when they occur. These authorities are divided into groups based on identified cooperative needs, known as forums for crisis preparedness (FCP). The decision on this can be found in the Ordinance on Emergency Management and Increased Preparedness. (2006:942)

Strengthened crisis preparedness can be achieved by the FCP working together to increase capabilities, to benefit from synergy results, and to ensure that necessary cooperation between stakeholders functions correctly in the event of a crisis. Joint planning primarily covers measures that increase this capability and measures that as a pre-condition require cooperation between several stakeholders. Participating in projects, public-private cooperation, exchanges of information, cooperation during international work, and research are all examples of work in the forums.

The role of the MSB (Swedish Civil Contingencies Agency) in the FCP is to provide administrative support to all forums and is also appointed member in four of them.
